TRAVELING FAR AND FAST—FOR VICTORY

Everything a citizen needs to know about this country's development as a major military power has been published in the excellent reports of Chief of Staff Gen. Marshall, Commander in Chief Adm. King and Gen. Arnold, reporting separately for the army air force.

Adm. King's report, latest to be issued, covers all developments in the navy up to March 1. Like the other reports, it is the story of the realization of America's war potential. In the years before the war began, the navy was doing its peacetime job of training officers, experimenting with equipment and keeping abreast of information. It did less than it wanted to do, but its record since the outbreak of war proves it did exceedingly well under the handicap of the false security which dominated pre-war thinking.

With the nucleus of officers and enlisted personnel who had chosen the navy as a career and the equipment they had learned to use, the United States navy has been expanded in the relatively short time since Pearl Harbor to an organization now capable of meeting all demands. This has been done by the assimilation of vast numbers of reserves, the navy's fighting strength in wartime. Under the direction of the professional navy, these civilians now are serving efficiently wherever the navy moves and fights.

"Both in Europe and in the Pacific," Adm. King declares, "long roads still lie ahead. But we are now fully entered on those roads, fortified with unity, power and experience, imbued with confidence and determined to travel far and fast to victory."

Because of the magnitude of its operations, the navy is difficult to comprehend. It is much easier to follow such an action as the Anzio beachhead landing than to understand the complexities of concentrating enough men and supplies to make and maintain the landing—a navy operation. The navy is involved in every exertion of American fighting power. It operates on the water and in the air—and on land, when its marines and "Seabees" swing into action. In its development up to its present peak of strength, it is the culmination of American enterprise in the war emergency. The people are indebted to Adm. King for a concise presentation of one of the greatest stories of our times.

EYES FOR INVASION

No single aspect of aviation's military usefulness is discussed less than observation, obviously one of its most useful applications. The airplane was the answer in World War I to the problem of information. It gave eyes to the general staff. Before the advent of dependable planes, the balloon was the only answer; before the balloon, a soldier perched in a tree, or commanding general standing on a high point of land were the only means of following the battle.

It now is evident from communications that Allied air power has swung into the attack on railroad yards and airfields which must precede invasion. But it is doing something else—has been doing it for months. Aerial observers are keeping the combined chiefs of staff informed about the invasion terrain. They are reporting hour by hour the effect of the preliminary barrage of the invasion area. Their cameras are furnishing up-to-the-minute photographs. When the invasion begins, the whole picture of the massive operation can be made available to the Allied staff as it unfolds.

It has been a long time since lack of eyes made generals and their armies get lost and stay lost for days; a half-hour flight today would find them and bring them back into the fold. The airplane has done many things to change the nature of war, but on the eve of the greatest military project of all time it has done nothing more important than removal of guesswork from military operations.

FIGHTING UNDER A HANDICAP

The real battle going on in congress under the publicized title of anti-poll tax bills is, of course, the fight to keep federal authority from encroaching on the states. In their shrewd way, the one-big-happy government crowd never go into action under their own banners. They always say they are crusading for down-trodden minorities.

Unfortunately, since the poll tax is a relic that is preserved only in the deepest and densest south, it is a heavy handicap in the fight to maintain state authority over elections. That is, it has no defense within the ethics of the American people. Southerners who ask for public support on the larger issue raised by the poll tax argument are in the same relative position as the slaveholders who used to demand the return of stolen property when a slave escaped. They were within their legal, but outside their moral, rights.

The whole poll tax issue could be dissolved without trace if the backward states which still use poll taxes would get rid of it, instead of tempting over-zealous power grabbers in Washington to burn down the states' rights barn on the excuse of getting the horse out.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE FOR HITLERISM

German moves to pick up belated support for a National Socialist version of post-war organization in Europe will call attention to the Allies' failure to propose concrete plans, but unless the majority of observers have been wrong, Hitlerism is offering too little and too late. The Germans have incurred the undying hatred of captive populations for their arrogant behavior as military conquerors. Whatever plans might be proposed could not erase the stigma of terrorism and looting.

The Allies will go into Europe as liberators of the captive populations from German-created conditions which speak louder than plans. They do not pretend to be able to map the future, holding that to be a matter of self-determination for people now denied any future other than that determined by their masters in Berlin—a future they have learned to dread by their experiences with German domination in the present.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, April 27

WITH A SENSIBLE alertness to deceptive and tricky factors there is a prospect of surprising progress to be made on this day. Large and important moves, of far reaching scope, should respond to certain dynamic astral forces, that impel toward out-of-the-ordinary initiative and projects. Novelty, ingenuity and innovation may win support from high places. But with it all there is menace of entangling alliances of dubious worth. Be wary of all subtle schemes, lures and wiles in business as well as private life. The latter may be thrilled by romance and change or extraordinary and unforeseen experiences.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a thrilling year, with new and important openings for advancing forward into progressive channels, sudden and unanticipated. This with dramatic or dynamic incident, reaching far into the future, with romance and adventure. Strange, radical and novel propositions attract support from influential persons, impressed by the exceptional and unusual. But in all associations beware ensnaring, intriguing or subtle situations, indicating distress and perhaps ignominy. In private affiliations there is forecast of romance, thrills, change and surprise, with emotional gratifications as well as upsets.

A child born on this day may have much talent and ambition, with exceptional creative ability, to attract those in high places. It should have a romantic and adventurous life, but be subject to deception and illicit intrigues.

The Japanese soldier knows how to die, he is fanatic and brave, he obeys commands explicitly and he is a tricky opponent. He is also stupid.—Lt. Col. Henry L. Shafer, back from Bougainville.

Greater freedom for the greater number necessitates some degree of curtailment of the freedom of a few.—Sir Stafford Cripps, British minister of aircraft production.

I believe that we may see in America such prosperity after the war as the world has not yet known. Contributing to this will be the unprecedented purchasing power which is being built up through the accumulation of War Bonds, together with the tremendous pent-up demand for goods.—Gov. Bricker.

In solving our manpower problems the first demand is that we obtain for physical contact with the enemy enough of the kind of men we need to do the job.—Secretary of War Stimson.

Unless man has the wit and the grit to build his civilization on something better than material power, it is surely idle to talk of plans for a stable peace.—Francis B. Sayre, UNRRA diplomatic adviser.

This will also be known as the era of crowded trains and crowded buses and many grumbles.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Misinterpreting Dietetics

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
SCIENTIFIC dietetics is a fairly new subject and a lot of people who have just learned its elements are exploiting the public by preaching what they seem to think is its message, which amounts to warnings that everybody is eating the wrong thing. Also anything you like to eat is bad for you. Neither of which are really science at all.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I quote as an instance a letter received at my desk:

"The sixty plus women in the Red Cross dietetics class which I teach agreed that their chief difficulty lay in getting enough yellow vegetables and green leafy vegetables on their tables into their families."

A little learning is a dangerous thing.

Modern Dietetic Lectures
Modern dietetic lectures give an enormous amount of emphasis to the virtues of carrots and spinach and turnip tops and chard. And the acolytes get it all out of proportion and think the whole world should eat large gobs of this rabbit food at every meal.

My spy system tells me that the carrots and greens movement is sponsored by such eminent scientists as Lady Mord and the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. Harrison Williams. But, as Chesterton said: "Let us not put a simple salad into a complex edifice; let us put a complex edifice into a simple salad."

My correspondent goes on to say: "I belong to an organization which serves meals for other groups. The men whom we serve think of a good meal in terms of meat, potatoes, gravy and PIE!" Apple pie, she adds, "is what she means."

And what, may I ask, is the matter with meat, potatoes, gravy and pie? "Perish forbid," as Archie says, that the American table should desert meat and potatoes and gravy and pie. They built the Union Pacific, they conquered the wilderness, they made the plains to rustle with wheat and to throng with cattle.

Meat Good Food

Meat and potatoes and gravy and pie have everything. Begin with meat. According to the very best scientific authority—I quote Dr. William Rose, Professor of Biochemistry at the University of Illinois, "Of the 22 generally recognized amino acids which make up the protein molecule 10 are indispensable constituents of diets, 9 are necessary for growth and maintenance and the 10th, arginine, is necessary for maximum growth." And it is generally acknowledged that meat is the food where the body can most easily obtain them. It would take a bushel basket full of turnip greens to furnish the body with as much amino acids as a fair slice of any ordinary meat.

As for potatoes, I sang the virties of the potato a week or two ago. It has all the vitamins and iron and other minerals, and protein and starch for energy, and men have lived on potatoes alone in health for months. Let us compare the carrot and the potato. You can live so far as your calories are concerned on four pounds of potatoes a day, and get enough protein besides.

Potatoes and Carrots

It would take seven pounds of carrots to keep you going and you'd only get half the protein you need. As to vitamins, potatoes have 7 points of Vitamin C to carrots 3, 165 points of Vitamin B to 60 for carrots. Carrots are away ahead on Vitamin A—2000 to 50. Potatoes have twice as much iron as carrots.

Gravy is fat, and fat is necessary for the absorption of other foods. You absorb 70 per cent of the Vitamin A in raw carrots, but this drops to 50 per cent if there is no fat in the diet. Fat gives concentrated energy, it empties the gallbladder and promotes the flow of bile.

As to apple pie, I can't get all its virtues in with the room I have left at the bottom of the column. Suffice it to say it adds the much needed element of roughage for elimination.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
J. M. B.: My husband and I have been arguing a point for quite some time; here it is: Does Cod Liver Oil act as a lubricant of the bowel, and is it habit forming?

Answer: You are having a typical matrimonial argument. You are arguing just to argue, because Cod Liver Oil is not supposed to be a lubricant or meant for the bowels at all. It is given to furnish the baby with Vitamin D. Do you mean mineral oil? If so it is a lubricant and is not habit forming.

C. B. R.: Does a child with a light case of asthma who is taking treatments for it have to go to a different climate?

Answer: Children usually outgrow asthma and it is probable that staying in the climate where they got it produces immunity.

H. L. H.: I am 33 years old and on an X-ray the doctor finds I have moderately advanced pulmonary tuberculosis with a cavity. What is your advice?

Answer: Consult a doctor or go to a sanitarium where they give treatments to collapse the lung.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining Weight," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? ☐ YES ☐ NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

"And he wrote me that anonymous letter?" Tony asked Miss Scott.

"I suppose so."

"But why?"

"I don't know. Perhaps to keep Mr. Bradford out of trouble."

Tony went on, after a moment, "But destroying those records may have been just wasted effort. If one of them was duplicated, they all might have been. Did you have a key to the office?"

"Certainly."

"But not to the cabinet?"

"No. Dr. Metcalf always gave me his key when it was necessary to fill the magazine of the dictograph, or remove the completed records and file them."

"Has the key to the office ever been out of your possession?"

"Never until yesterday evening."

"What do you mean by that?"

"I mean that a little while after you had left, Herschel Schneider, Mr. Metcalf's lawyer, came in to see him. They were together in the inner office for perhaps half an hour. After Mr. Schneider had gone, Mr. Metcalf came out and

HITCH-HIKING SAILOR TACKLES DRIVER FOR A RIDE

GREELEY, Colo. — The sailor who hitch-hiked a ride from Mrs. Philip Forquer kept his face averted as he climbed into the back seat.

Mrs. Forquer and her child, who was eating an ice cream cone, were in front.

"Sir, you wouldn't mind giving me a bite of that cone, would you?" asked the sailor, keeping his face at an angle.

She gave him a lick. Then he asked for another and still another. She watched solemnly as the cone shrank.

"This is as far as I go," said Mrs. Forquer as they reached Evans, near Greeley.

"Well, mama, this is where I stop, too," said the sailor, a grin spread across his face.

Mrs. Forquer gasped and cried from surprise and joy.

It was her son Ralph, seaman first class, back from the wars for the first time in 17 months.

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J. — Males in this town have an excuse for going native with beards like scrub Jersey pine since all the barbers have gone into part-time work in war industries. POLITICS COME FROM BABES' MOUTHS

PARSONS, Kas. — Mrs. Mabelle White was pinning Red Cross arm bands on teen-agers who were going to take up Red Cross collections in theaters. One boy drew back.

"Oh, you'll have to have this Red Cross band on your arm," said Mrs. White. Besides, you ought to want to wear it. The Red Cross is one of the greatest organizations in the world, you know. Why, President Roosevelt is at the head of it."

"I know," said the child, "but I'm a Republican."

Ration Tokens Give Transit Companies Costly Headaches

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 26.—American transit companies are having super nightmares in which they dream food rationing will come to an end suddenly—leaving approximately 2,000,000,000 blue and red ration tokens in circulation.

Since Feb. 27 when tokens were introduced, Americans have dropped at least 12,000 precious one-point pieces into transit company fare boxes and "the total may be three times as high," the American Transit association asserted today.

The organization—now sponsoring a three-day eastern conference—said at least 1,000 automatic electric fare boxes had been temporarily put out of commission because of the practice.

Moneywise, this has cost streetcar and bus companies between $11,000 and $33,000, the ATA declared, adding that not only were cash fares lost but that it cost an estimated $10 each to fix jammed fare boxes.

The ATA has been at odds with the Office of Price administration since last November, when OPA announced new ration tokens would be only slightly smaller than a dime.

The transit group said it had been in consultation with OPA for six months before that and that OPA had agreed to make tokens larger than a nickel but smaller than a quarter. This, said the ATA, would have had no effect on transit fare collections.

"Ration tokens are found in cigarette and candy vending machines, postage stamp dispensers and even in automatic war savings stamp machines," an ATA spokesman said.

OPA Head Chester Bowles has said "we feel confident that when the novelty of the new tokens wears off, the innate honesty of the American people will cause the illegal use of ration tokens to diminish rapidly."

To this, the ATA offers this report from a member company: "At the Episcopal church service in Hingham on Sunday, Rev. Magruder advised the congregation that he received a blue token in the last collection. He stated as long as they were going to put tokens in the collection he would prefer red tokens."

Patrolmen Are Cleared In Youngstown Shooting

YOUNGSTOWN, April 26.—A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned by Corner David E. Hauser today in the death of E. Quay McHenry, 30, who was shot by police during an automobile chase early Tuesday.

Police Chief John Thomas said two men in a cruiser gave chase when they saw a man lean from an automobile and fire a shot in a neighborhood bar to which police had been called twice as result of a disturbance.

During the chase Patrolman Walters fired three shots at tires of the fleeing car and one at the machine. The bullet hit McHenry in the neck. He was dead when rushed to a nearby hospital.

DRAFT CALL

65,000 and 70,000 men either will enlist at age 17 or will be inducted upon reaching 18 each month.

Aggregate needs for the armed services between now and Dec. 31, based on current estimates, Costello said, are 1,285,000 men. Should that goal be reached by inducting the same number of men each month, inductions would average 154,000 monthly the rest of this year. That number of men, Costello said, can be furnished from the teen-age group from the younger men now in I-A, from the younger men whose occupational deferments are revoked, and from the relatively few older men holding up essential jobs.

News and Views, Briefly On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 26.—Latest draft figures indicate most inductees during the rest of the year will be under 26, with few fathers over that age being called. This was the interpretation by house military committee members on Selective Service figures showing a pool of 1,509,000 figures and 700,000 non-fathers in class 1-A on April 1.

UNITED COMMAND

Sentiment for legislation to establish a unified command over the nation's armed forces and to consolidate the Army, Navy and Air forces swept through a special house committee today as new witnesses were called to bolster War Secretary Stimson's endorsement of such action. Navy Secretary Knox will present the Navy's views on Friday.

"G. I. BILL OF RIGHTS"

Sen. Clark (D-Mo) attributes the delay over the "G. I. Bill of Rights" veterans benefits bill to the "hatred of certain congressmen for the colored soldiers." He mentioned by name Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) who said he did "not care to comment." "They are so unwilling," said Clark, "to allow the colored troops to have the unemployment insurance to which they are entitled that they would be desirous of withholding absolutely-deserved benefits from all of our troops."

LEND-LEASE

There is little chance of lend-lease not being extended for another year, says Sen. White of Maine, the senate minority leader. "It's something like having a bear by the tail," White observed, "and not being able to let loose of it."

SOVIETS DECORATE ALLIANCE OFFICER

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Three Ohioans were among 29 officers and four enlisted men of the United States army awarded decorations by the Soviet government, the War department announced.

Pvt. Roger W. Greene of Bellefontaine, O., who received the Order of the Red Star, has been reported killed in action.

Col. Paul F. Yount, (49 E. Prospect St.) Alliance, O., was awarded the Order of Kutuzov, third class.

Corp. Hugo B. Schenlein (R.D. 2) Fort Recovery, O., was given the order of the Red Star.

The awards were made by the president of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, who announced that all the men were members of the Persian command. They were given for "the successful performance of the mission of the Persian Gulf command in the movement of arms, equipment and food supplies for the Soviet union, thus affording great assistance to the Red army in its struggle with the Nazi German invaders."

Salona Installs New Hammermill For Corn

Installation is under way at the Salona Supply Co. of a new hammermill that will greatly benefit the farmers, especially in the difficulties generally encountered in transforming unhusked corn into meal, according to E. E. Bower, general manager.

The new mill, which grinds the grain by means of hundreds of small hammers, operated by a 50 h.p. motor and will increase the capacity of the plant by at least 100 per cent.

Corn often reaches the mill with parts of the husks still on it, Bower said, and the hammermill can eliminate this surplus material easily, while the old attrition type grinder which has been in use couldn't segregate the heavier content. The mill now in use grinds the grain by means of a rubbing process as compared to hammering through small screens under the new arrangement.

FBI Questions Burglary Suspect At E. Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 26.—FBI investigation of a $7,200 robbery at Burgettstown, Pa., last fall, in which a safe, containing bonds and currency was removed from the office of the Scott Service Co. to Steubenville, led to this city today after Stanley Yomas, 29, of Steubenville, was held for the Columbiana county grand jury on a charge of attempting to rob Max Lowmyer's tavern.

Federal agents, seeking to recover the Burgettstown loot, questioned Yomas after he was held under $5,000 bond here.

FBI agents said Yomas was released April 21 at Pittsburgh on $5,000 bond after he and two brothers were named in federal indictments charging transportation of stolen property in the Burgettstown robbery.

E. Liverpool Picks Name For School Auditorium

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 26.—The board of education today announced a partially-constructed high school gymnasium-auditorium, completion of which depends upon a two-year one-mill tax levy to be submitted at the May 9 primary election, will be "dedicated to the veterans of the wars of the Republic as a permanent memorial for their deeds."

When the pilots returned, 22 of them lined up to collect their rewards. Mrs. Wattenmaker is the wife of Dr. M. E. Wattenmaker, who also is in the service.

Col. Black, Highway Patrol Chief, Is Dead

COLUMBUS, April 26.—Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the Ohio Highway patrol since its organization, died in Mt. Carmel hospital today of a kidney ailment. He was 45.

Black came to Columbus in 1933, at the request of former Gov. George White to organize the patrol, and developed it into one of the most efficient law enforcement bodies in the country.

He was born in Morganfield, W. Va., in 1888, and served with the Navy during the first World war. He later enlisted in the West Virginia state police, and after several years with that organization went to Cincinnati in 1927 to become head of the Indian Hill rangers. Later he became deputy sheriff of Hamilton county. The position he held when Gov. White summoned him to Columbus.

BRICKER OUTLINES POST-WAR POLICY

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 26.—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio today stood behind a foreign policy calling for post-war maintenance of world order by the military might of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China until final peace terms are arranged.

The four great Allied powers, he said, should act as "independent sovereign states" and without a world police force.

The proposal, which follows along lines previously suggested by former President Herbert Hoover, was made last night by the aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination in a pre-convention speech before the Ohio Society of New York.

The Ohio governor's insistence that international cooperation be attained through action by "independent sovereign states" put him in line with the Republican post-war advisory council's declaration of foreign policy at Mackinac Island last fall.

Charging that the present administration was caught "shamefully unprepared" for war and had shown "indecision, vacillation and weakness" in its foreign relations, Bricker urged adoption by the United States of a "consistent and competent" foreign policy.

Other points advocated by the white-haired Ohioan:

1. That the President, backed by Congress, insist upon retention by this country of certain strategic military, naval and air bases which have been built with American money in other parts of the world.

2. Immediate exploration by the United Nations of the basis for a permanent international structure for peace, which would include American participation in a "co-operative organization of sovereign nations" without any world "super government."

3. Inauguration by the United States, Britain, Russia, and China of a "continuing study" of currencies, credits, tariffs, air rights, markets and international trade, with the objective of eventual return to a world gold standard.

ART'S

WHY VOTE IN THE PRIMARIES?

Speedy and successful termination of the war is the one great objective upon which our hearts, our minds, and all our energies are centered at this time.

While our boys are sacrificing their lives at the battle front, we face a grave responsibility to preserve and defend our individual freedom, our traditional independence and our American way of life.

It is the responsibility of every citizen to vote for, and the Republican Party to select, representatives who will fight every step of the way to rid Washington of bureaucracy and regimentation, as well as the pressure groups and lobbies which sway the political minds of both parties.

Men with purely political background with ambition for political careers are not the answer to these problems. Guided by career politicians, our government, under the guise of liberalism is fast heading into national socialism.

We have another responsibility, just as great, that relates to the internal economy after the war. If we are not keenly alert, private enterprise may be destroyed and another dose of WPA substituted for employment.

My experience in Washington for the past one and a half years, employed in several of the war agencies and closely associated with war and government activities is a challenge that I could not resist.

The security of liberty and constitutional government lies in Congress. Its power is limited by the character of the members comprising that body.

The greater portion of the problems facing them relate closely to agriculture, industry and to our economic life. I believe that more men, experienced in the various phases of our national life should be selected as representatives to Congress. From my observations, it is most convincing that the representation is greatly out of balance.

With due respect to the legal profession, the representation from the state of Ohio, comprising seventeen attorneys, four professional men, and but two business men from a total of twenty-three congressmen, is typical.

From this it would be expected that a broader viewpoint of industrial life, and employment, agriculture and economic life would be difficult to obtain.

It is not essential for a congressman to spend several terms serving apprenticeship in Washington, at the expense of taxpayers, to do effective work. His success depends entirely upon his ability to gain the respect and confidence of fellow congressmen.

My association, recently, with the various war agencies, which afforded contact with many congressmen and government administrators, among whom I have many good friends, would assist greatly in the immediate effects of my efforts.

I am a candidate because I believe a better job can be done and that I am fully qualified to do it.

I am further convinced, since covering this district in my campaign, that the Republican Party can win the November election of a Representative in Congress, with a business candidate.

I believe that the Post War Period of America will prosper and our democracy will be safeguarded — "with less government in business and more business in Government."

F. H. "PETE" JOHNSON

Candidate

Republican Primaries,
May 9, 1944

Educated at Penna. State College. Johnson made an enviable record on the famous "Mittany Lion" football team, giving his vacation time to social welfare and playground work in New York City.

As a graduate civil engineer, he worked on public works projects in various parts of the United States and Canada until 1921, when he became co-owner and manager of the Summitville Face Brick Company, Summitville, Columbiana County, where he has been a resident for 23 years.

He is a member of the American Legion, having served as a First Lieutenant in World War I.

In World War II, he failed to qualify as an officer in the Engineer Corps on account of minor injuries. He was then selected to serve with the War Production Board and the Smaller War Plants Corporation at Washington, where he served until March 15th of this year. His resignation there was made necessary when he filed in the 18th District of Ohio, for Representative in Congress.

Johnson is married and the father of three children. His oldest son, Fred H. Jr., a pre-Pearl Harbor father, is serving overseas as a private in the U. S. Infantry. Daughter Ethel studies voice in New York, and Peter, Jr., at present attends Penna. State College. (Paid Advt.)

Salem High Scores Impressive Win Over Boardman At Reilly

Cope's Squad Wins Easily; Dunlap Gets 4 Firsts Again

From indications yesterday afternoon at Reilly field, when Coach Fred Cope's Salem High track team romped to their second win, 73½ to 44½, over the Boardman High track squad, it looks like a gala year for the Quakers.

In winning their second meet, Salem had little difficulty with the Boardman competition, and in everything but the weight events, where Rib Allen's Fred Marshall held sway, walked away with the honors.

Undoubtedly the outstanding athlete on the field yesterday was Salem's Charlie Dunlap, who for the second straight time topped 20 points with first places in his four events. Dunlap next pressed seriously in winning the 100 and 220 yard dashes and the high and broad jumps.

Marshall In Good Form
The performance turned in by Boardman's Fred Marshall, hefty weight man, also was exceptional. Marshall tossed the discus 137 feet 9½ inches, which is a mighty good toss in any league. He is the lad who took first place in the district meet here last year. He also out-heaved all opposition in putting the shot, with a good 41 feet four inches, and got third in the broad jump.

Salem got nine firsts and a tie for the mile run out of the 14 events. A comparison with their marks at Louisville last week shows some improvement, but Cope said after the meet that he expects much more from his lads before the season is over.

Flick Entriens, another Quaker speedster who is showing up well this year, brought down 13 points.

CLEAN LEADERSHIP NEEDED, SAYS CAGE BANQUET SPEAKER

Brown's Team Honored By Boosters Club; Lanney Elected Captain

Emphasizing the need for "good, clean leadership by athletes in the high schools," Don Gardner, Youngstown sports announcer and teacher, spoke last night to the members of the Salem High school basketball squad at a banquet given for them by the Salem Boosters club in the High school building.

Gardner also pointed out to the Salem youths that the younger children in the city look up to the athletes and use their examples in their ideas of what is right and wrong.

Speaking after the dinner served the players, members of the faculty and club by the High school domestic science class, Gardner also reviewed the recent state basketball tournament at Columbus and gave his impressions of the four teams entered there.

Kelley Presides

Joe Kelley, chairman of the affair and president of the club, introduced Gardner to the guests following short speeches by Supt. Earl S. Kerr and Basketball Coach Herbert Brown. Kerr praised the work of Brown and his assistant, Paul Dodez, this year and said the high school basketball team has given Salem in the past ten years is highly commendable.

Brown presented letters to members of his reserve and varsity squads and stated that prospects for next year are especially good. He expects six lettermen back and some excellent material from this year's reserve group.

Reserve members who received letters are: Pete Sabala, Don First, Louis Juliano, Lowell Myers, Ben Brudery, Leonard Sobek and Don Whitacre, manager.

The varsity awards went to Flick Entriens, Mutt Schaeffer, Norm Smith, Jim Appedisan, Walt Brian, Francis Lanney and Bill Stout.

Brown also awarded Manager John Pozniko a letter, and remarked that he had worked harder for his award than any of the players.

Lanney Named Captain
Walter Brian was elected honorary captain for the past season and the team members named Francis Lanney captain for the 1944-45 season. Lanney spoke briefly, thanking his team members for the honor.

Entertainment was provided during the meal by High school girls. The dinner program was in charge of Mary Lou Mason.

WELCOME HOME

By Jack Schell

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, April 26—A lot of quotes about a little subject—but one of our pets—scholastic and college baseball.

From "southern coach and athlete"—"more emphasis on baseball in high schools would not only help solve the player shortage, but would make good cash customers out of thousands of non-participants, who now know and care nothing for the game."

From Birmingham, Ala.: "I think high school officials look on baseball as something that just has to be, so they spend as little out of the football till as possible. Uniforms aren't too flashy and the general equipment is no better. Season is short; games are scheduled through the week on obscure fields... umpiring isn't too good."

From Connecticut: "Nearly every school plays it. An effort several years ago to put on a state tournament attracted a good entry but did not arouse too much interest. Basketball packed 'em in nightly, whereas baseball didn't draw flies, mainly because of the hours. No effort has been made to put on a baseball tournament since."

From Indiana: "What's wrong with it? Nothing, except the time of year it is played. Principal John W. Holden of Elkhart High School proposed a few seasons back that the prep league should carry its baseball into the summer, using only those players who were eligible at the close of the school year."

From Minor league headquarters: "Anything that is practical, within reach financially and for the best of the game will find me in one hundred per cent accord."

The pros and cons of college ball are similar, and from this opinion sampling, we've concluded that the big needs of both school and college ball are (1) better coaching and equipment, (2) less snatching of good players by organized baseball, (3) more enthusiastic support from older folks who love the game (it might be catching), (4) further incentive in the form of

BROWNS CAN TIE RECORD TODAY BY BEATING INDIANS

May Equal Winning Streak For New Season; Giants, Cardinals Are Stopped

BY JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
If those amazing St. Louis Browns today they will tie the modern American league record for win streaks at the opening of a season.

Luke Sewell's Browns have captured six in a row, only one short of the total compiled by the Yankees in reeling off seven straight starting with opening day in 1933. The big league mark of 12 still is safe in the hands of the 1884 New York Giants, but the modern big league mark of nine held jointly by the 1918 Giants and the 1940 Brooklyn Dodgers is within reach.

Both current National league streaks went by the boards yesterday then the Giants were knocked off by the Phillies in 12 innings, 4-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals were slaughtered by Cincinnati, 10-3. Only the Browns remain to threaten the record books.

Mort Cooper of the Cards had trouble in his second straight heat and was knocked off the hill before he could get anybody out in the first inning. Elmer Riddle threw a neat eight-hitter for Cincinnati and didn't yield a Card hit until the sixth.

Buster Adams and Charley Schanz, a rookie hurler from San Diego, were the culprits in the Phillies' exciting 12-inning 4-3 win over the Giants. Adams hit a two-run homer to tie in the sixth and bashed a double scoring Schanz with the decisive tally.

Brooklyn and Boston battled away at a 3-3 clip for eight innings until the Dodgers cut loose with eight runs in the ninth to make it a lopsided 11-3 final. Lefty Bob Chipman went all the way to capture his second straight.

Connie Mack's Athletics refused to be awed by Johnny Lindell's grand slam homer, the first in the major leagues this season, and overcame that four-run deficit to knock Ernie Bonham out of the box and win an 8-4 series opener on late rallies.

Marathon honors for the infant season went to the Boston Red Sox who were persistent enough to down Washington, 5-4, in 14 innings.

Dempsey Urges Physical Conditioning In School

NEW YORK, April 26.—Saying that 90 per cent of the youths who come under his direction cannot climb a rope, Commander Jack Dempsey, of the Coast Guard, last night urged a compulsory general physical program in high schools and colleges.

Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, spoke at a meeting of Navy physical fitness directors.

Professor Predicts 50 Per Cent of War Marriages Will Fail

(By Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, April 26.—Give the wartime newlyweds some books on philosophy and religion because —take it from a Goucher college professor—it'll help them make their marriage a success.

They'll need help, too, says Dr. Raymond P. Hawes, philosophy professor, who maintains that 50 per cent of war marriages are foredoomed to failure.

Dr. Hawes declared the successful war marriage depended, in essence, upon training in philosophy and religion.

The Army, taking cognizance of the problem, already is preparing text books for this sort of training, the professor said, adding that in Great Britain a similar Army-sponsored program was working successfully.

"Any marriage is a risk. War marriages are a tremendous risk," Dr. Hawes stated.

Breaking down marriage into three basic levels—physical, romantic and idealistic—Dr. Hawes said that the first would account for the most divorces.

The second, which he described as the "ego-centric, I-can't-live-without-you school," also would cause a large number of broken homes.

But the third, characterized as the "I want you to be happy school," which includes the first two levels, was based on a common devotion and carried the greatest assurance of success, he maintained.

Enrollment in this school, Dr. Hawes concluded, is strictly via the philosophy and religion method, properly applied.

The War Today

man defenses are so arranged that the reserves are held well behind the Atlantic wall. They will wait to see where the Allies break through and then will counter-attack.

This won't by any means be the first time paratroopers have been employed in major operations, but it's likely that their use in the invasion will far exceed anything heretofore seen. One of the earliest paratroop successes was the German capture of Crete three years ago.

The Russians achieved another notable victory last fall. Their paratroops captured the strategic railway junction of Ovruch and 30 other places in the Zhitomir sector, thereby enabling the regulars to retake Zhitomir.

The Americans in the Pacific have used paratroops freely and successfully. And at this moment both the British and Americans have large airborne forces doing yeoman's work behind the Japanese lines in the Burmese jungles.

German Destroyer Is Sunk By British

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 26.—The sinking of a German destroyer by the British navy off the northwest coast of France in the vicinity of the Isle De Bas was announced by the Admiralty tonight.

A Royal naval offensive force, made up of both British and Canadian ships and led by the Cruiser Black Prince intercepted the Nazi vessel as it sought to escape after being damaged early in the encounter this morning.

She sank under the fire of the guns of three Canadian destroyers of the Tribal class, and a British destroyer.

The vessel was one of three or four enemy destroyers encountered by the Allied naval force.

AVERY DEFIES

Avery declined to comment on the conference, and neither he nor Taylor would disclose the contents of the president's executive order.

John Barr, member of the law firm acting as the company's counsel, said the company had no statement to make and that it was "now up to the government."

The plant union, CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail employees, Monday voted to return to work, ending a 12-day strike which had affected an undetermined number of the 5,500 employees in the mail order division.

In a telegram to the White House yesterday signed by Avery, the company agreed to maintain "wages, hours and related terms of employment" for the employees who returned to work yesterday. However, the telegram said, company compliance with the President's order would "make a mockery of the Democratic right of employees to choose their bargaining representatives freely and without interference."

CAPITAL ASPIRANTS EXTEND CAMPAIGNS

Seek Votes In Cuyahoga County Where Lausche Even Lacks Support

(By Associated Press)

Democratic and Republican gubernatorial candidates today were making strong bids for votes in thickly-populated Cuyahoga county, where the county Democratic organization has refused to back its own Frank J. Lausche, mayor of Cleveland, or any other candidate for governor.

James W. Huffman, Columbus attorney, yesterday appointed James R. Devitt, who in 1941 managed Lausche's successful Cleveland mayoral campaign, to round up support in Cuyahoga county for his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Lausche at Cadiz last night declared legal remedies should be found to replace strip mine scars and restore the soil to its "normal agricultural richness." Earlier at St. Clairsville he urged further expansion of safety programs for eastern Ohio mines.

Last night 43 Cleveland Republican leaders organized a Cuyahoga county committee endorsing the candidacy of Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

In Columbus, Milo J. Warner, chairman of the Thomas J. Herbert-For-Governor committee, declared Republicans must nominate a war veteran for governor if they are to win in November. Warner cited the attorney general's World War I record as a combat pilot.

Gov. Paul M. Herbert, another Republican gubernatorial aspirant, in an address at Lancaster, promised post-war vocational training for Ohio's 500,000 service men.

In an address prepared for a meeting of the Marietta Advertising club, the lieutenant governor declared the Ohio river valley might become the busiest industrial area in the United States. He stressed the need for "intelligent development of the valley's wealth of natural resources and the importance of flood control."

At Cleveland, two of Lausche's opponents in the Democratic campaign launched personal attacks upon the Cleveland mayor.

Frazier Reams of Toledo accused Lausche of "sponging 1,620 campaign miles" from Democratic leaders throughout the state by refusing to request extra gasoline and asking local leaders to drive him around.

In an address over a Cleveland radio station, former Congressman Martin L. Sweeney termed Lausche "the candidate of the open shop crowd."

Sweeney added "Lausche has received endorsement from some of the radical groups of labor, endorsements which I predict they will live to regret."

F. D. R. GIVEN

The vote today from 5,228 of 8197 precincts gave:

Gov. Dewey 113,301.
Gen. Douglas MacArthur 6,942.
Roosevelt 4,228.
Gov. Edward Martin of Pa., 3,124.
Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, 2,418.

Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen 1,808.

Wendell Willkie 976.

Another shove for the fourth-term drive was seen last night in Connecticut Democratic caucuses at which many delegates to the state party convention next month were instructed to endorse the President.

Kentucky Republicans completed the naming of a delegation of 22 yesterday and instructed them to vote for Gov. Simeon S. Willis as a "favorite son" candidate for the presidential nomination as long as his name is before the convention.

The delegates were left free to vote as they please after Willis' name is withdrawn and delegates and party leaders said they would then go to Dewey.

BRUNSWICK

offensives have lambasted the Germans with over 50,000 tons of explosives and thousands of incendiaries — and cost the Americans and British probably more than 2,300 airmen and 389 planes.

Most of the 2,300 men aboard these lost aircraft are believed to be safe as prisoners, but that personnel cost does not include the dead and wounded on planes that returned home after sky battles.

The 389 planes, however, are only slightly more than one per cent of the total of 33,000 used in the 11 days, and the Allied command rates this as reasonable cost.

The Germans have suffered a tremendous toll and the results may curtail the length of the war by months, air experts say.

More than 700 of Germany's fighter planes have been reported wrecked — with replacement an ever harder problem — and heavy destruction has been caused in German cities, war factories, airfields, other communication lines and anti-invasion defenses.

The range of attacks has extended from the French and Belgian coasts through Germany to the Balkan capital cities of Bucharest, Budapest and Belgrade.

OHIO SOLONS MEET ON VOTE MEASURE

Legislators, Summoned By Bricker, to Speed Soldier Ballot Bill

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 26.—The Ohio legislature convenes tonight in a special session called by Gov. John W. Bricker for the enactment of soldier voting legislation.

Bricker in an address to the legislature is expected to state his reasons for wanting federal, state and local candidates included in the ballot. The uniform ballot recently approved by Congress contains only the names of presidential and congressional candidates.

For the past several weeks a special committee of Republican legislative leaders has been working on a bill which would facilitate voting by military personnel and it is expected to be ready for consideration of the lawmakers tonight.

Simplification of registration and extension of time for getting ballots to and from soldiers in distant lands are among the features of the proposed legislation.

Among the points yet to be decided are whether or not to extend the time on local option questions, and whether 20,000 ballot requests already received from servicemen should be recognized.

Bricker has limited work of the special session to soldier voting legislation, and it is expected the measure will be passed and laid on his desk by Friday evening. Since it is an emergency measure, it will become effective immediately upon the governor's signature.

The heavy Republican majority of the assembly is expected to defeat any efforts by Democratic members who may propose amendments to approve the federal ballot.

In event the bill fails to provide for extension of time on local option questions, it is expected the Democrats will offer an amendment to insure service men an opportunity to vote on such matters.

House Democrats in caucus last night named A. Lee Fair of Holmes county to serve as acting minority leader in the absence of John J. Carney of Cleveland, who is in military service.
